Council Ousts Reardon By 3 to 2 Vote

ell More Than alf Of Bond Quota

Even without considering the 10,000 in War Bonds authorized or purchase by the city council, Monday night, Daly City has eached 51 per cent of its Fifth War Loan quota, figures released, Tuesday morning, by Walter J. ehigh, chairman of the drive, howed. On that date, sales totald $89,636.25, with the city appropriation to be added as soon as inal details were worked out. Prospects for reaching the $175,000 goal looked fine but, as Lehigh pointed out, this figure includes two large allocations from he county and only continued community support will achieve his city's objective. He thanked ll who are cooperating.

Staffing the War Bond booth at the Daly City theatre, currently, is El Carmelo Parlor No. 181, N. D. G. W. July 2 and 3 will be handled by Woodrow Wilson P. T. A.; July 4 and 5, General Pershing P. T. A.; July 6, 7, 8, Jefferson Union High School P. T. A.

Mrs. Walter Lehigh has taken over duties as chairman for the retail division of the drive, replacing Mrs. Jean Conlon who had to resign the post due to illness in her family. She is being assisted by Mrs. Martha Wegner, Mrs. Ann Eason, Mrs. Olga Bordson, and others.

During the Fifth War Loan drive, Jefferson Union high school sold $4,760.10 in bonds. The school has established a record of $85,678.50 for the school year just concluded. Of this, $5,778.95 was in June. In March, the school made its objective of purchasing a $75,000 P-38 for the armed forces.

Lehigh concluded his report for the week by urging all Daly City residents to "back the attack with War Bonds—buy more than ever before."

School Trustees Study Applicants

Members of the Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees are giving careful consideration to applications for the position of superintendent, left vacant when James Ferguson, leading educator and head of the local high school for seventeen years, passed away. Remi Sanders, board chairman, announces that nearly a dozen prospects have already been interviewed by the board. No immediate decision is expected, he said, as the board intends to find the man best suited to handle the important position.

"We want a man who is really qualified and who will have the interests of the students and community at heart," he said.

Saturday, July 1, at 1 p. m. the board of trustees will hold its reorganization meeting at the high school.

The eight vacancies on the faculty have been filled. Names of the new instructors will be announced, next week.

Some Gas Masks Still Unreturned

Now about those gas masks—there are still approximately 75 to be returned to civilian defense headquarters, Room 2, city hall, 75 Wellington avenue, according to Director Arthur J. Bodien, who has already delivered three hundred to the Army.

The masks are needed AT ONCE by the armed forces and those volunteers who have not brought their masks back are asked to do so immediately. If the civilian defense room is closed the masks may be left at any hour of the day or night at the police department. Name of the recipient should be attached to each returned mask, so that proper credit may be given on the personnel record.

Baseball Fans To See Triple Feature, Sunday

Daly City baseball fans were treated to a triple feature at Marchbank park, Sunday, with games starting at 10 a. m. Bayview Merchants opened with a 12-1 win over a local squad, followed by a tie contest, 3 to 3, between the Daly City Juniors and the Hamilton Rams. The game was called to allow the third feature to start on time, in which the Colombo Bakery of Oakland downed the Junior Seals, 4 to 3.

On the previous day, on the boys' recreation schedule at the park, the Daly City Cubs played a 6-6 tie with Holy Angels church of Colma, lost, 8-3 to Sharp Park, and defeated the Leonards, 4 to 1. Charles Norry, director in charge of the Saturday programs since their inception, has announced that, after July 1, he will be unable to continue in this capacity. Norry first took the lead in establishing junior baseball in Daly City, and has given a great deal of time to the project.

Teams from Monterey invade Marchbank park, Sunday, July 2, bringing two junior squads of players. At 11 a. m., the Monterey Bombers are scheduled to meet Robak's Buffet of Oakland, and at 2:30 p. m. the Daly City Juniors take the field against the Monterey Boys club.

July 1 Deadline For Auto Use Tax Stamp

Collector of Internal Revenue Harold A. Berliner today urged automobile owners to obtain and affix to the windshield of their automobile, the Auto Use Tax Stamp, now on sale at all post offices, Internal Revenue offices, and offices of the California State Automobile association.

A recent check-up with all agencies selling the auto stamp revealed that sales are lagging and unless car owners obtain the stamp immediately, thousands will be required to wait long hours in line to obtain the stamp.

The collector pointed out that the Auto Use Tax Stamp may only be purchased with post office money orders, certified checks or cash. Personal checks are not accepted.

Auto Use Tax Stamps are $5, and must be affixed to the windshield of all types of cars, regardless of make, model, age or gasoline ration allowance, by July 1.

After July 1, car owners who have failed to obtain or affix the Auto Use Tax Stamp to the windshield of their automobile become subject to statutory penalties.

Lady, The Red Cross Project Needs You

Have you any time to spare for war service work?

If so, the Daly City Red Cross workroom needs you as a volunteer, according to Mrs. J. G. Morris, in charge of the production of surgical dressings at the local center.

Women are needed, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. to make bandages and dressings at the workroom located in Theatre hall, directly above the Daly City theatre. No previous experience is necessary and the demand is urgent, particularly since the invasion.

"Here's a very direct way to help that son, brother, or husband overseas", said Mrs. Morris.

Lions Club Hears Talk On Delinquency

Roy C. Hatch, educational field director for the Boy Scouts of America, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Daly City-Colma Lions club, yesterday, June 28, at Colonial Drive Inn. His topic was "Effects of Scouting on Juvenile Delinquency."

The Wednesday, July 5, meeting of the local Lions club will be held at the Eth-El-Bert tearoom, 215 West Portal avenue.

MAYOR GAGGERO

CHIEF REARDON

Begin Program For Lincoln Park

In spite of a rainy Monday, Daly City's summer recreation program for Lincoln park, Brunswick and Acton streets, is off to a good opening week under the direction of Mrs. Betty Otton.

Hours are from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, and from 10 a. m. to noon, Saturday. Crafts, games, story-telling, and supervised play are included in the schedule of activities for the center, which caters to elementary school age moppets who want to have a good time during the precious days of vacation.

The program was set up by the city council and its recreation committee. It will continue until the opening of school in the fall.

SERVICE CLUB

During the week of July 2, Daly City Unit No. 410, American Legion auxiliary, will be hostess organization at the Daly City Servicemen's club, 6201 Mission street. Currently, Court St. Mary No. 1155, C. D. A., is in charge.

Tuesday, July 4, a special evening of entertainment is planned for the boys. Dancing and refreshments will highlight a Fourth of July party for which the decorative motif will be red, white, and blue.

Vista Grande Camp No. 6035, Royal Neighbors of America, will handle hostess duties during the week of July 9.

The club's committee, this week, thanked Mrs. Lillie Cavagnaro for a cash donation, and Jim Callan for a gift of cups and silverware.

Colma District Reaches 50 Pct.

Colma district has reached $50,000 or 50 per cent of its quota for the Fifth War Loan drive, according to John Ferrari, manager of Colma branch, Bank of America, chairman for the campaign. Mrs. M. Pauline Brown, war finance chairman for the area, reports that sales have been slow but steady.

As a special attraction for bond purchasers, this week, the Colma district has arranged to provide anyone wishing to attend the Far Western Swimming Championships at Fleishhacker's pool, July 2, 3, and 4, with two free tickets.

Those who want tickets may secure them by buying their bonds from the A. W. V. S. bond table at Colma branch, Bank of America, any time this week. The aquatic event is being held on the afternoons of July 2, 3, and 4.

Mayor A. J. Gaggero Deplores Method Used In Removing Chief From Position

Over the protests of Mayor A. J. Gaggero and Councilman Eugene V. Lynch regarding the methods employed, the Daly City Council by a 3 to 2 vote, Monday night, removed Police Chief James G. Reardon from office, by passage of a resolution which labeled the chief as incompetent and inefficient. The men voting the ouster were Councilmen Bert L. Meritt, Howard McHugh, and Edward J. Dennis. Upon roll call, Gaggero and Lynch voted "no."

Three other resolutions were passed at the session, one adopting the proposed budget for 1944-45. Motion to adopt the budget as proposed by Mayor Gaggero was made by Councilman McHugh and the vote was unanimous. Another resolution, adopted unanimously, approved the memorandum of agreement for the accumulation of the quarter cent gas tax for 1945 and authorized the mayor and City Clerk B. C. Ross to sign the agreement with the state on behalf of the city. A resolution transferring monies from certain bond funds to other fund accounts of the city was unanimously adopted upon the motion of Councilman Meritt.

Other business transacted during the stormy council session included the acceptance of the resignation of Walter Davis, former policeman; the hearing of committee and poundmaster's reports; the filing by Councilman Lynch with the city clerk of a 38-page transcript submitted to the police commission by the Five Townships club; the appointment of William Bolger as acting police chief; the authorization of a city purchase of $10,000 in War Bonds during the Fifth War Loan drive; the appointment of Dean Wood, 39 Mission circle, to a permanent position of the police force.

More details of the council's Monday night meeting are continued in the two columns below, one dealing with the resolution dismissing Reardon and the other with general city business:

Police Chief

When the reading of resolutions was called for by Mayor Gaggero, the final one read dealt with Chief Reardon.

Complete text follows:

"Whereas, as the police commission of the city of Daly City held a meeting on May 17, 1944, at which time and place the chief of police, James G. Reardon appeared before said commission for the purpose of answering questions in connection with the conduct of the police department and

"Whereas, it had previously been directed to the attention of the police commission that a certain .38 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver had been confiscated by officers of the police department and placed in the custody of the chief of police for safekeeping, and

"Whereas, Councilman McHugh asked the chief of police at said meeting if he still had said revolver in his possession and said chief replied that he did and that it was downstairs in his office, and

"Whereas, request was then and there made of said chief to produce said revolver forthwith, and

"Whereas, said chief was unable to do so and admitted that he did not have the revolver but had loaned it to a San Francisco police officer, and

"Whereas in the opinion of the city council the action of the chief of police in deliberately telling a falsehood to the police commission and in loaning said revolver contrary to the rules and regulations of the police department constitutes misconduct of office, incompetency, and failure to observe the rules and regulations of the department, and

"Whereas, the police department was required under government regulations to confiscate alien held property at the time of the outbreak of the war, and

"Whereas the city council and the city of Daly City is accountable for said property so confiscated, and

"Whereas, certain property was confiscated by the police department of the city of Daly City, and

"Whereas, after demand was made said chief, James G. Reardon, has been unable to furnish the city council of Daly City with an inventory of alien property confiscated by his department and his failure to do so does in the opinion of the city council constitute incompetency and inefficiency of office and failure to perform his duties as chief of police or to observe the rules and regulations of the police department, now therefore be it resolved by the city council of the city of Daly City that the chief of police of said city be and he hereby is removed from office, said removal to be effective as of the date of the adoption of this resolution and

Other City Business

Although heavily overshadowed by the police department fireworks, another resolution of considerable importance to the city was passed, Monday night, the adoption of a budget of appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1945. The mayor presented the budget with a letter of transmittal discussing the city's financial condition in general. The letter pointed out that nothing in the resolution shall be construed as fixing the general tax levy for the year 1944-45 and that it would be subject to future revision from time to time. The resolution did, however, limit the expenditures from city funds during the 1944-45 fiscal year as follows:

General obligations, $143,839; library maintenance, $5,200; municipal bonds and interest $8,980; total, $158,019.

The mayor's letter of transmittal pointed out that the $10 "cost of living bonus" per month for employees would be continued to offset the rising cost of living, subject to revision and cancellation when conditions should change. He advised the building up of the unbudgeted reserve and post-war planning funds to help overcome a possible depression when the war is over.

Under the proposed budget the probable tax rate would be:

General government	.64
Library maintenance	.05
Unbudgeted reserve and post war planning fund	.20
Water Works reserve	.08
	.97
1938 City hall bonds	.07
1941 Fire department improvement bonds	.05
TOTAL	$1.09

The $1.09 rate is the same as the actual tax rate now.

The resolution dealing with a transfer of monies was presented and passed because balances remained in two bond issue funds of the city which have been paid and redeemed in full. $372.20 remaining in the 1924 Water Work Bond

FOURTH OF JULY

Local banks, post office, most city offices and stores in Daly City will be closed for the Fourth of July. The Daly City Police department, the draft board and the Daly City Record will be open for business as usual.

Due to the Fourth of July holiday the Daly City Fire commissioners will not meet on the first Tuesday. Instead, the commission will meet, Wednesday night, July 5, at the city hall, starting at 8 o'clock.

The General department of the fire department will hold its meeting on the first Monday night as usual, July 3, at 188 Santa Barbara avenue, according to Fire Chief Andrew P. Chesney.

Tender Comedy Opens At Daly City

A tender and human comedy, full of laughter and just a few tears is now playing at the Daly City theatre. The film is M-G-M's "Lost Angel," starring moppet Margaret O'Brien, the wonder child who will forever be remembered by moviegoers for her poignant portrayal of the title role in "Journey for Margaret."

This time Margaret stars in a comedy about a child who is raised as a prodigy by a group of professors and thinks she is happy until an irresponsible reporter, played by James Craig, enters her tiny sphere and captures her imagination with a promise to show her magic. The result is an evening's fun for all when the super intellectual child sets out and challenges him for proof. And when circumstances force Craig to keep the child for a few days events begin to pop. Craig learns a valuable lesson which enables him to find happiness with his torch singer sweetheart, played by Marsha Hunt, and the young genius becomes a normal, healthy, happy child, aware of all the wonders of childhood.

With this picture, little Margaret O'Brien makes secure her right to movie stardom. She proves herself a finished actress in words and deeds and sets a pace few child actresses can equal. James Craig and Marsha Hunt, paired recently in "The Human Comedy," contribute outstanding support to young Miss O'Brien as the romantic leads, and Keenan Wynn makes his delineation of Packy, the befuddled racketeer, a comic characterization not to be easily forgotten. Others in the cast as the well-meaning professors are Philip Merivale, Donald Meek, Henry O'Neill and Sara Haden.

Director Roy Rowland has squeezed every ounce of comedy from this unusual feature, making the most of the production advantages accorded him by Robert Sisk, who produced for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Sea Scout Ship Receives Charter

Ted Gourley, squad commissioner of San Francisco district, presented the new charter for Sea Scout Ship No. 144 to John Newton, president of the Daly City-Colma Lions club, sponsoring organization, at ceremonies, Friday night, June 23. Marion Higeria, of the Market Street railway, entertained the ship and its many distinguished guests with movies.

Tom Tallon, Daly City District commissioner, and Joe Powers sr., alternate commissioner, were present, as were the following members of the Lions committee, Mel Battye, acting skipper for the evening; Newton, Dr. William J. Lantheaume, and R. E. Bennett.

Ship's officers are Torence P. Ashley, quartermaster second; Joe Powers jr., mate; Charles Christian, boatswain's mate; Bob Meritt, boatswain's mate; Robert Lewis, yeoman.

Certificates of membership and of qualification were presented by Gourley to the committeemen and ship's officers.

Refreshments were served after the program and the boys and their guests voted the evening the outstanding one of the year.

Appreciation was expressed to Higeria for the fine films shown for the boys' entertainment.

IN LONDON

Another of those chance meetings between local servicemen took place in London in May. Private John Schwarz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwarz sr., 659 San Diego avenue, went to a theatre in London and when he tapped the chap in front of him on the shoulder to ask the time it turned out to be Private Frank Heinzle, U. S. Army, from Daly City. Both boys are still in England; both attended local schools.

WOUNDED

A casualty list released, early this week, included the name of Private First Class Rodolfe Giandeini, 114 Evergreen avenue, Daly City. He was in the Mediterranean area when wounded.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

NOW AT DALY CITY THEATRE

There's a terrific problem facing James Craig in M-G-M's "Lost Angel," and moppet Margaret O'Brien offers to help him out while he scours through a pile of books. Pretty Marsha Hunt looks on quite winsomely, while Bobby Blake wonders what it's all about. The film is due to open tonight at the Daly City theatre.

upon grounds of misconduct, incompetency, inefficiency, failure to perform his duties and to observe the rules and regulations of the police department."

Councilman Lynch immediately voiced opposition to the resolution and stated his vote would be a dissenting one.

Mayor Gaggero's comments follow:

"I believe that if there is any basis for the charges contained in the resolution introduced they should be heard but I am not in harmony with the methods, the mechanics, or the means to the end employed for the reason that just a few months ago during the election campaign the then city council was severely criticized because they had not set up a board of review and adopted rules and regulations in accordance with the terms of the Civil Service ordinance and the provisions of an order issued out of the Superior Court of San Mateo county.

"After the election the question of the board of review and adoption of rules and regulations attained an almost life and death importance in the minds of the new council with the result that the board of review was tentatively appointed, subject to future ratification when the rules and regulations provided for in the Civil Service ordinance had been adopted. That tentative board of review has been working diligently with the city council on formulating a set of rules and regulations adapted to our particular needs.

"Those rules and regulations are ready for adoption tonight but I am informed that for reasons which appear obvious but not justified, some of the members of the city council do not now wish to adopt the rules and regulations and wish to nullify the existence of the board of review and let the city council act as the board of review, hear the charges contained in the resolution introduced here tonight.

"I am definitely opposed to the city council acting as a board of review because I am unable to comprehend how the city council sitting as such and as such filing charges against a city employee which result in the removal from office of such employee can as the same city council sit as unfair, unprejudiced, unbiased, and impartial as a board to mete out justice.

"It sounds to me as though the city council would be sitting as prosecution, judge and jury in an action brought by themselves and on which they have already passed judgment and that it is reasonable to assume that the result of the hearings would be predetermined and certainly prejudicial to the rights of the accused to a fair and impartial hearing in accordance with generally accepted practice."

Despite Gaggero's plea for fairer play, Councilman McHugh moved the resolution be adopted and it was seconded by Councilman Dennis. Vote was 3 to 2 as stated above.

Former Councilman John J. Fahey rose to point out that Reardon had been asked to leave the key to the room where the confiscated alien property was stored in the department office by the former council, thus taking from him the control of the situation. Until the request was made by Councilman Hugh Smith jr. Reardon alone had access to the storage room but following instructions to leave the key in the police department, it was obvious that he did not have control, Fahey pointed out.

Julius Castelan, former city engineer, who stated he had supported Dennis and Meritt for election rose to declare the Monday night's proceedings "unfair and un-American," prejudicial without cause to Reardon.

Under new business, Bolger was named acting chief. Lynch moved that Dean Wood be appointed to the police department temporarily. The motion died for lack of a second. Then, he proposed the adoption of the Civil Service rules and regulations. Meritt, McHugh and Dennis voted "no;" Gaggero and Lynch "aye." Councilman Dennis stated that the rules and regulations would be adopted "in the very near future" but that their adoption now "would only confuse the issue."

Immediately after that Councilman McHugh moved that Dean Wood be permanently appointed to the police department. Dennis seconded the motion and the vote was: Meritt, Dennis, McHugh, aye; Lynch, Gaggero, no.

Under the city's Civil Service Ordinance, adopted in 1936, Reardon would have the right to demand a hearing before a board of review (which would be the city council inasmuch as the rules and regulations were not adopted Monday night). A public hearing must be held under the provisions of the ordinance if such a hearing is requested by the former chief of police.

Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, chief clerk, reports that of the men sent for induction into the U. S. Army, Wednesday, June 28, by Daly City Draft Board No. 103, three were local, Edward Free, 439 Evergreen avenue; Thomas Stanghellini, 140 Moltke street; Albert Gallegos, Colma. Tomorrow, June 30, among a contingent of 29 being inducted into the Navy from the local board area will be Dorman Stever, 182 Los Banos avenue; George Ragghianti, 38 Gambetta street; Leslie Claus, 102 Hillcrest drive; Lloyd C. MRS. AMERICA MEETS THE WAR

From the frying pan to the firing line is the route which Mrs. America's waste household fat follows after she turns it in to her butcher. And the War Production board declares the need is still urgent for the collection of used fats to be used for gunpowder, explosives, and in the manufacture of sulfa drugs and other medical supplies. Formerly a billion pounds of fats each year came into the United States from the Orient. Since the war has cut off this supply it's up to Mrs. America to help bridge the shortage of industrial fats and the increased war needs. Besides, she still will receive two red points and 4c a pound for salvaged fat turned in to her butcher.

If you decide to sell the family automobile after July 10, your sale price will be bound by the provisions of the OPA regulation covering ceiling prices of used cars. All local OPA boards and automobile dealers will have copies of the official OPA ceiling prices. The regulation sets specific dollars and cents prices on 23 makes comprising about 6,000 models of passenger automobiles manufactured from 1937 through 1942. For each sale after July 10, buyer and seller must turn a transfer certificate into the buyer's local board.

Mrs. America's allocation for home canning sugar from the wartime sugar bowl continues this year despite curtailed civilian supplies. But she is urged to budget suggar obtained for canning and to apply for it at her local board only when she needs it. For sugar is a precious war material with a variety of important uses besides sweetening coffee and cereals. For example, it is used in the making of explosives, synthetic rubber, for plastics and in various essential drugs and serums. Application for home canning sugar allotments are to be filed with local OPA boards. One application form, R-323, is used for an entire household, but spare stamp 37 from Ration Book Four must be attached for each member of the family.

Look for a slight increase in bakery goods, mayonnaise and other items containing eggs because the OPA will give the makers of these products an emergency sugar allotment to increase the use of eggs.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

"And for the support of this Declaration . . . we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor."

These are the words of the Declaration of Independence which we hear all too infrequently, but which eloquently reveal the stark dangers that confronted the signers of that daring document.

After more than a century and a half since that historic date we are inclined to think of it as a somewhat glamorous occasion. But actually those men were face to face with the cold stare of death. And they knew it. But knowing it did not deter them from taking their bold step toward independence. "Liberty or death" was not a mere slogan with them, but an expression of what they felt in their hearts.

Realizing these facts, the Fourth of July must mean infinitely more to us than an occasion for picnics and parades, speeches and band-playing. While these activities have long been a part of our observance of the day, we must not allow the real meaning of our Independence Day to be lost in the ceremonies and functions that are held. The war worker who stays on the job on this holiday is doing more to really celebrate it than anything else he might do.

In 1776 we fought to establish true liberty here on the American continent. Today we and the other United Nations are fighting to establish and preserve liberty all over the world.

The Glorious Fourth of 1776 remains the Glorious Fourth of 1944, as America honors by work, word, and fighting deeds, the self-same cause of Freedom which gave this nation its birth.

THE AMERICA THEY KNOW

The first major crisis of the invasion is over. We have gained a firm foothold on the soil of France. The road ahead is still a hard one, but the big nightmare of the war is behind us.

Now, in looking back, we can better realize just how much of a nightmare the anticipation of D-day really was. The uncertainties involved in the adventure, together with the endless variety and fantastic quantities of equipment and supplies needed were staggering to the imagination.

Many of us wondered in the long months before June 6, as the ceaseless stream of supplies flowed into Britain, how we would have fared in this world struggle if, before the war, we in America had not developed the capacity for such enormous production. Fortunately for ourselves, and the civilized world, we did have this capacity.

Before Pearl Harbor some people said that American business had grown too big. But when war came—when the chips were down—it was by no means too big. Mass production and distribution are helping win the war. They will help win the peace in making possible ever higher living standards.

Large-scale enterprise is a definite part of the American way of life. Some of the Washington "wonder boys" are bent on breaking it up along with the general revamping of the nation which will better suit their tastes. But we won't improve our standard of living by dismantling what has already proved to be a highly successful economic system.

There is always room for improvement—yes! But improvement should come through refinements in our present system, not by attempting to throw out the entire machinery for something new and untried.

Our fighting men have repeatedly declared they want to come back to the America they know. Why? Because, after seeing other nations all over the globe, they realize that, with all its faults, the America they know is still the grandest place on earth in which to live and work.

A PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Back in the days when the world was at peace, it was only a matter of a few hours and a few dollars to travel from the English coast to France. But war changes things. It took the Allied armies several years and many billions of dollars to make the trip successfully.

This reminds us that the war has already consumed a great deal of time and money, and may require a great deal more of both before it is over. Every American is, or should be, well aware by this time that the more War Bonds he buys the sooner he can win, and the lower the ultimate cost not only in money, but in lives.

Actual figures for War Bonds sold in California since 1940 are not available, but some indication of the volume is reflected in the fact that the State's largest bank which serves over 300 communities from Calexico to Crescent City has sold over $1,100,000,000 to the public.

This remarkable record is a combination of enthusiastic salesmanship by the staff of that bank and the realization by Californians of their responsibility to buy War Bonds. But records cannot be rested upon. Rather they must, and will, be used as the basis of further achievement.

We may be inclined at times to think of War Bond buying solely as a patriotic duty. But it is something else as well. It is a means of guaranteeing for ourselves a better future and a better education for our children. Every Bond is a stone in the wall we are building against runaway inflation. We can't build that wall too high.

The Fifth War Loan drive is your personal responsibility. Remember, the bonds you are "going to buy" will not help at all. Only the bonds actually bought—and held—will count toward final victory.

Delinquency Deterrent

This is the season when Scouting enthusiasts are knee-deep in summer camp plans, which, under expert, understanding adult guidance, will provide thousands of youngsters their only real outing this year. Actually the summer camp program will provide much more than that.

With juvenile delinquency figures climbing to heartbreaking totals under the impetus of wartime dislocations, the character building aspects of Scouting offer certain aid in the right direction.

Any boy or girl who misses the fun of campcraft, hiking, nature study, camp cooking, camp sports, dramatics and games with playfellows of an age, misses a lot of jolly things that belong to youth. But any youngster who fails to experience the community life, the sharing of both tasks and fun, the comradeships of Scout camping, misses, too, an important and lasting stimulus toward good citizenship.

As builders of well balanced human beings and as deterrents to juvenile delinquency, the summer Scout camps must be considered a highly helpful factor in tapering down those alarming delinquency figures now worrying parents and juvenile authorities throughout the country.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

It is often very hard for grown-ups to understand what goes on in the minds of children—our memories are short perhaps. One man who has not forgotten is Marquis W. Childs, whose new novel, "The Cabin," shows unusual insight into the mysteries of childhood.

MARQUIS W. CHILDS

Mr. Childs hitherto has been best known as a newspaperman and a political writer, author of "Sweden, the Middle Way," "This Is Your War," and "I Write from Washington." "The Cabin," his second novel, definitely establishes him as an important fiction writer.

This is the story of three weeks in the life of thirteen-year-old Rob Dennett, three weeks which he spent on his grandfather's farm. His grandmother is a tyrannical, hypochondriac woman, cloaking her shrewishness when necessary beneath a saccharine sweetness. His grandfather, a pathetic creature, is still fighting, vainly, after a lifetime of failure, against his wife's domination.

The heroine of this story, a very real heroine even though she wears faded patched petticoats and has the face of an old witch, is Rob's spinster Aunt Stella, whose own life has been wrecked by her mother, but who is fanatically resolved that the same thing won't happen to the boys. By the end of the story, when she dies as inarticulately as she lived, you are made aware that it is she who has steered Rob from danger and that it is she who has opened for him the door leading to normal and vital manhood.

Maria Manning, who for over fifty years has conducted an advice to the lovelorn column under the name of Beatrice Fairfax, tells in her autobiography "Ladies Now and Then," of one of the first letters she ever received. It was from a young man with a fearful problem. His landlady was holding the fact that he had not paid his rent as a threat over his head to get him to marry her. The trouble was, the young man said, that the landlady was an old hag and he was really in love with her daughter. What should he do? Beatrice Fairfax advised him to get a job and pay his rent.

Since time immemorial man has dreamed of escaping from this planet to walk upon the moon or Mars. This is not at all impossible according to scientific writer Willy Ley, who in his book, "Rockets," prophesies that within the next several centuries we will see rockets conquering the immensities of space.

POLICE AND FIRE NEWS

At midnight, June 26, Deputy Sheriff George Krehl contacted Daly City Police to investigate a burglary at the home of Thomas Fahey, 251 Station avenue. Officers Roland A. Petrocchi, Roy Beecher, and Sergeant Ricco Benedetti responded and found that someone had entered the home between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m. Taken were $5 from a glass jar, seven packages of cigarettes, a gold Westfield wrist watch with the initials T. W. F. engraved on the back. The unknown thief had ransacked the whole house, including the ice box from which he helped himself to a piece of cake.

Earlier on the same date, at 10:40 p. m., Officer George Hopman investigated a report of theft from Ross Lee, 456 Irvington street, who discovered that someone had entered his home and made off with seven bottles of Old Crow and Black Gold whiskey, as well as $2 or $3 in small change.

A false alarm from Box 45, Templeton avenue and Mission street, called out Company No. 1 and Company No. 4, D. C. F. D., as well as Chief James G. Reardon, Sergeant Benedetti, and Officer Henry Sundermann jr., June 26 at 4:32 p. m.

Property damage resulted in a street car and auto accident at School and Mission streets, June 25, 2:55 p. m. Motorman was T. Marshall, 462 Niagara avenue, San Francisco, and driver of the car was Raymond Blosser, 222 Moncada way, San Francisco. Local police made a report on the incident.

Sunday morning, June 25, Mrs. Selmi, 6712 Mission street, reported that her store had been robbed the previous evening. The place was ransacked but only $4 in small change had been taken. Officers Hopman and August Benassini investigated and concluded someone must have entered from a window at the rear of the store.

At 1:35 a. m., June 25, Officers Petrocchi, Beecher and George Savage investigated when Fred W. Riches, 464 Irvington street, reported that his home had been entered and ransacked while he was working. Missing were $34.50 in small change, a Masonic ring and a gold watch. Officers concluded that the thief may have made entry through a kitchen window.

Officers Petrocchi and Beecher recovered a car reported as stolen by the El Cerrito police. They found it parked on Junipero Serra boulevard south of Belle avenue, June 23 at 5 a. m., and put it in the Daly City Garage. Later, the same date, they released the Buick sedan to the owner, Clarence H. Beach, Richmond, California.

Officers Benassini and Beecher rushed to the scene of a serious accident on Mission street, near Knowles, at 12:40 a. m., June 22. Joseph Lucia, 307 Santa Barbara avenue, driving a Mercury sedan south on Mission, struck a pole and was fatally injured. Dean Wood and Emil Bertelli rushed him to the Alemany emergency hospital in the No. 1 first aid truck.

Today...never say, "Oh, that's not enough to save." Use every spoonful of leftovers especially if they are beef, lamb or pork. Grind up meat scrap...hash it, cake it or loaf it. Pep it up as a Mexican dish with chili or go Chinese with soy sauce and onions. Leftovers are so easily turned into appetizing nourishing meals. Saving food IS important! Did you know that American families have been throwing away enough food each year to feed ALL our armies overseas? It's the truth. There is just one other important saving too. Save the life and the cooking efficiency of your range by keeping it clean and in good repair. The best way to do this is to "service it up" after every meal. AVOID CANNING MISHAPS BY FOLLOWING PROPER DIRECTIONS

Although 1943 was a banner year for home canners, it was also a troublesome one. As unbelievable as it may seem, it was the old-timer, rather than the novice, who most often lost her way in the maze of jars and war-time caps. Some of the old-timers were so sure they knew the road to successful home canning that they struck out alone, paying no attention to directions. Others chose to follow uninformed guides who posed as authorities, but those who went to headquarters for information made the journey without mishap.

The glass top seal cap, consisting of metal band, glass lid, and separate rubber ring, was the indirect cause of the more serious canning troubles in 1943. This cap gave satisfaction when used right, which was and is fortunate because the War Production Board's order that at least forty percent of all jars made be fitted with glass tops has been carried over into 1944.

Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, gives five simple rules which will, if followed, insure successful use of the glass top seal caps. They are:

1. Examine the top of every jar. It must be even and smooth.
2. Leave about one inch head space when filling jars to be processed (cooking in jar in canner) and about one-half inch head space when doing old-fashioned open kettle canning.
3. Fit the rubber around the projection on the bottom of the lid before putting lid on the jar. The rubber must lie flat between the lid and the top of the jar. Rubbers cannot slip out of place if they are put on right.
4. When processing is to be done, tighten the metal bands, then loosen them by turning back about one-quarter turn. The bands must be tightened after the jars are removed from the canner.
5. Remove the metal bands the next day after the canning is done and test the seal by pulling on the lids, gently, with the finger tips. If the canning is done right, vacuum in the jar plus air pressure on the outside will hold the lid down in an airtight seal. That is why it is unnecessary to put the bands back on the jars.

Each of the five rules given is important, but failure to observe rule number four causes trouble.

Every section of the country "over-subscribed its quota" of jar breakage last season. Too much internal pressure is the most common cause of jar breakage while jars are in a canner and is the only thing that causes a jar to explode. Internal pressure builds up when a jar is closed so tight that steam cannot escape from it during processing. So, keep those glass top seal bands loose while the jars are in a canner, and there will be, can be, no explosions!

A jar on which a separate rubber ring is used should never be closed tight before processing. On the other hand, the flexibility of the metal lid plus the nature of the sealing compound make it both possible and necessary to tighten the bands on vacuum seal, two-piece metal caps before processing.

Manufacturer's instructions clearly state that:

1. Jars to be sealed with vacuum seal caps must have even, smooth, flawless top edges.
2. From one-half to one inch head space must be left when filling jars and anything spilled on the top of the jar must be wiped off.
3. The lids must be dropped in boiling water. They need not be boiled unless they are to be used for old-fashioned open kettle canning.
4. The metal bands must be screwed down snugly tight,—that is, as tight as they will go without force. The bands must not be tightened after the jars are taken from the canner.
5. The bands should be removed from the jars the next day after the canning is done and the seal tested by pressing on the lid with a finger. A tightly sealed lid will not move under finger pressure.

In spite of these five simple rules, there were persons who went right ahead last season and used old sharp-edged jars or those with rough, nicked, or uneven top edges, and there were some who filled the jars too full. Others tried to make cast-off lids from commercial jars serve the purpose of the regular metal bands, but possibly the most common of all blunders was that of forcing the bands so tight that the tops of the jars pushed through the

The metal bands for vacuum and glass top seals are not interchangeable but both should be removed from the jars the next day after the canning is done and left off. Otherwise, they are likely to rust and be difficult to remove when time comes to open the jars.

The "war babies" are still with us, but prospects are much brighter for the 1944 canning season. More people will be familiar with the glass top seal and two-piece vacuum seal caps. The sealing compound on the metal vacuum seal lids will be less easily ruined because of the synthetic rubber in its composition. Best news of the season for a great many home canners is that the one-piece zinc, porcelain-lined cap is back from the war.

When asked to give "you-can't-miss-it" directions to a successful canning season, Miss Kimbrough said: "Select strictly sound, garden-fresh vegetables; prepare, pack, and process by Blue Book recipes; use regular home canning jars—every one of them has the name of the jar molded in the side; and follow the manufacturer's instructions for using jars, caps, lids, and rubbers."

SAN MATEO COUNTY WAR CHEST HOLDS MEET

Approximately one hundred attended a meeting of the San Mateo County War Chest, recently, in the council chambers of the San Mateo city hall.

There were representatives from practically every section of the county, and great interest was shown in the outline of the program that was presented for the coming campaign in October.

Judge Aylett R. Cotton, campaign chairman, in greeting the gathering, gave a resume of the success of last year's campaign. He said "This is the second year for the San Mateo County Community Chest campaign. Last year our citizens were very generous, not only in their contributions but in volunteering their time and energy. Although our goal at that time was the largest San Mateo county had been asked to raise up to that period, that amount was exceeded by about $4,000.00.

"The National War Fund is a federation of the leading war-related appeals, except the Red Cross, to provide essential wartime services to our armed forces, Merchant Marine and prisoners of war," the judge continued, "and to supply essential wartime relief to our Allies and to the refugees from occupied countries."

Ralph T. Fisher, president of the California War Chest, whose many years of experience in organizations such as the War and Community Chest give him a workable knowledge in these campaigns and whose enthusiasm is reflected throughout the county, was introduced by Judge Cotton. Fisher, in his interesting talk, mentioned the fact that the National War Fund quota will not be any larger, perhaps not as large, as that of last year. An important fact that was brought out during the meeting was the information that 743 Chinese Medical Aids had been trained in America for service overseas, made possible through the funds collected by the War Chest.

Hubert L. Voight, public relations director for the California Chest, gave an interesting and instructive outline of the program for the coming campaign, and Jeff M. Hall, field representative, was very helpful in his suggestions for the county organization.

Daly City was represented at the meeting by Mrs. Elsie Hesselein, D. C. McKisson, Mrs. Betty Eschenauer, Mrs. Edna Van Vliet, Mrs. Marie N. Pool, Mrs. Janet Delucchi, and Mrs. Cecilia Hale.

Use some of those surplus eggs now so plentiful and have a treat for yourself and your family — a real Lemon Meringue Pie. Shortening doesn't take points now, so pie crust presents no problem.

Lemon Meringue Pie

Bring to a boil in a saucepan on direct heat: 1 cup water, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Add 5 tablespoons cornstarch, blended with ½ cup water. Cook over low heat until thickened (about 5 minutes), stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Pour part of hot mixture slowly into 3 well beaten egg yolks. Return it to rest of hot mixture. Stir well. Add 1 tablespoon butter and stir. Add 6 tablespoons fresh lemon juice. Mix well. Pour filling into an 8-inch baked pastry shell. When filling is cool, top with a meringue, made by beating 6 tablespoons sugar gradually into 3 beaten egg whites until they hold their shape in peaks. Put in moderate oven at 325° F. for 15 to 20 minutes, to brown tips of meringue.

OPEN AIR POLICY of bare fashions extends to the accessory field. These cool cotton net beauties are available throughout the country in a wide variety of bright and pastel colors. (From Lycoming Prestige, New York.)

HAVE NEW SON

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fox, Hanford, California, June 19. Mrs. Fox is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Perry, 519 San Diego avenue. The couple was married in Redwood City the year before the war. When war came, Fox joined the Army. Mrs. Fox worked as timekeeper at Richmond shipyards. Then she went to Fort Bliss, Texas, to join her husband.

Later she went to New York where she joined the student nurse corps. After her training she was sent to Africa where she spent six months, then returning to Louisiana. In the meantime her husband, now a sergeant, had been sent to Italy and was wounded at Cassino. He was sent to Louisiana for treatment. Fully recovered he was assigned to Fort Riley, Kansas, as a tank instructor.

Mrs. Fox went to the home of her husband's parents in Hanford, California. She will visit in Daly City some time in August and then will join her husband at Fort Riley for the duration.

Lieutenant M. R. "Roy" Giusti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Giusti, 374 Woodrow street, Daly City, is a navigator on a B-24 heavy bombardment crew now in its final stage of training at the Army Air field, Casper, Wyoming.

Following completion of his training he will be sent overseas to a combat area where he will help take up the fight against the enemy.

RATIONING

(Editor's note: this column is prepared for The Record's readers by the local OPA board and is printed by this newspaper for the convenience of both the public and the board.)

TOMATOES . . . It continues to be important for Victory gardeners to have plenty of tomato plants . . . Home-canners should set up a definite quota for canned tomatoes which will help them to meet Vitamin C needed during periods when citrus isn't available.

EGGS . . . Supplies of eggs continue plentiful. They are still a "distress commodity" as far as the producers are concerned. The first thought is to prevent waste of this food which is so highly nourishing and so valuable to people in Allied and Axis - dominated countries. That means we should eat more eggs every day and "put down" more eggs in water glass—or use the light oil bath for home storage. It is up to the consumer to give the farmers market for their produce so they will continue to supply us with "egg plenty."

WASTE FATS . . . The homemaker who deposits waste fat at the butcher's counter can check two credits to her account . . . she is sending a strategic war commodity to the battle lines and earning ration points for family food purchases. Lee Marshall, director of distribution, WFA, urges American women to continue saving all their used cooking fat and to turn it in to their butchers. Marshall says, "We do not want to take good food fats and use them for non-food industrial purposes, if it can be avoided. The conservation of used fats by every homemaker can help in this situation." Just after many meats became point-free fat collections declined to some extent. Although the latest reports indicate that collections are now on the upswing again, they must be stepped up still further . . . to about twice the rate for collections at the end of 1943.

Bus Companies Plan Air Service

That more than 70 bus companies have applications before the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to establish local air service, usually with helicopters, is seen by Arthur M. Hill, president of the National Association of Motor Bus Operators, as an indication of the advanced postwar planning within the industry.

"There are some who consider these plans visionary," Hill said. "They forget that intercity bus lines are pioneers in a comparatively new form of public transportation, scarcely older than the airlines as an industry. When the first buses jogged over the rutted dirt roads less than three decades ago, many persons were not convinced that the automobile was entirely practical.

"Within that brief time, the nation has been given a great new system of highway transportation. The bus lines have established facilities reaching into thousands of communities that are without other forms of public transportation. Those who pioneered in bus operation have gained wide experience in the country's need for flexible, frequent-stop service. It is only natural, with the prophecies that the helicopter will be as adaptable to local service in the air as the motor bus is on the highways, that bus operators should seek to supplement their present lines with the new type of air carrier. Because of their present facilities, the bus lines can provide local air service at capital expenditures and operating costs incomparably less than would be necessary if undertaken by any other form of transportation."

An important point in connection with the proposed helicopter air service is that its development will provide particularly suitable employment to the thousands of men who have been trained as pilots or mechanics with the military air forces.

Canning Center At San Mateo Junior College Receives County-wide Acclaim

The canning season is well underway at the San Mateo junior college where complete canning equipment has been installed and opened to the public as part of the general drive to conserve food during the war years. People from the entire county are now making use of the plant which does the same type of work found in the large canneries.

Opening week found county housewives bringing in cherries, asparagus, peas, rabbits, carrots, chickens, beans, young berries and chicken broth. The fruits or vegetables are prepared at the college plant by the housewives under skilled instruction, and then a state licensed operator cooks the canned foods in high pressure retort machines.

The college plant has cans and glass jars, or the individual may bring her own jars. A small cost per can or jar is the only expense; there is no registration fee.

Any person, regardless of present residence, may phone San Mateo 4-3788 and arrange to bring in her fruits or vegetables. The plant, provided in part by the government and in part by the junior college, runs six days a week and Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

MAKE YOUR OWN CANNING EQUIPMENT

Be determined to do your part toward saving food, canning equipment or no canning equipment. Don't glibly use the shortage of equipment as an excuse for not getting busy and filling those pantry shelves with jars of non-rationed food, put up just the way your family likes it best.

You will do well to follow the advice of Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company. To all who lament the lack of canning conveniences she suggests: "It is true that a skilled workman requires good tools but when he can't buy what he needs, he makes the best use of what he has and makes what he hasn't."

A few of Miss Kimbrough's suggestions for home-made canning equipment are illustrated in the photograph above. They are:

1. A lard can to use as a water-bath canner. A pail, sirup bucket, wash boiler, or any other container in which water can be boiled, will serve, provided it is twelve or more inches deep.

2. Funnel. This was made from a No. 10 tin can.

3. A rack or platform to fit in the bottom of the canner. Make by tacking strips of odorless wood together.

4. Coal tongs (part of fire set) make good jar lifter.

5. Strong string looped (slip hitch) around neck of jar. Use when neither jar lifter nor tongs can be found.

6. Wire basket to hold the jars while they are in the canner. Made from a scrap of wire mesh. (Poultry wire will do.)

7. Wooden paddle for stirring apple butter, chili sauce, etc. Whittled from hard wood. Wooden spoons can be made in same manner.

This year the government is releasing more metal for the manufacture of canning equipment. Production and distribution may make it unnecessary for the housewife to assemble home-made equipment, but it can be done and done easily.

Will Not Ration Used Automobiles

The Office of Price Administration will not attempt to ration used automobiles in the immediate future and there are no present indications that it ever will, Paul I. Nederman, district rationing executive stated Monday.

His denial of used car rationing was prompted by misleading advertisements which urged motorists to sell their second-hand cars before used car rationing went into effect and that OPA would temporarily permit no sales.

"Motorists should not be misled by such appeals," Nederman said. "Rationing is not planned at this time, and, so far as OPA knows, no plan is contemplated for the future."

As far as OPA is concerned, he continued, it has no authority to ration used cars except upon specific directive of the War Production Board.The War Production Board has given no indication that they intend to order the rationing of used cars with the single exception of used 1942 passenger automobiles which were rationed along with the new 1942 models.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

Saving the Best in Fresh Vegetables

FEW FOODS are better to eat—and better for us—than fresh vegetables. And yet, it's surprising how easy it is to lose much of their food and flavor value in cooking. Here are a few hints on how to SAVE those goodnesses:

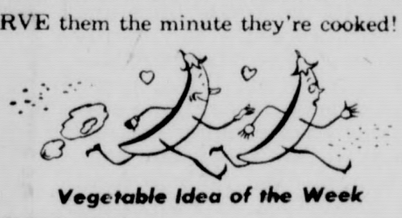
FRESH vegetables (picked from your garden or bought at the store) should be washed quickly and stored immediately—vitamins and minerals are lost in soaking.

MOST vegetables should be cooked rapidly in a small amount of water (but use plenty of water for greens and strong-flavored vegetables, and cook them uncovered).

SALT for flavor should be added when the cooking is started—do not use soda in cooking fresh vegetables.

KEEP vegetables whole for cooking, if you want to retain the best nutritional values.

SERVE them the minute they're cooked!



Vegetable Idea of the Week

CURRIED PEAS

2 cups fresh peas
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
2 tsps. curry powder
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper

Shell peas and cook, uncovered, in rapidly boiling salted water to cover until tender, about 10 to 15 minutes. Drain. Add butter or margarine, curry powder, salt and pepper. Serves 4 to 6.

Recipe of the Week

OLD-FASHIONED WILTED LETTUCE

½ cup finely diced bacon
1½ cups vinegar
2 tbsps. sugar
6 cups coarsely shredded leaf or head lettuce
2 hard-cooked eggs

Fry bacon in heavy frying pan until crisp, stirring occasionally; add vinegar and sugar; heat. Pour immediately over lettuce; cover with inverted skillet. Steam 5 minutes. Garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs. Serves 6. (Note: combination of lettuce and romaine is excellent.)

No Gas Unless You Take Full Load

Persons who desire to volunteer for work on farms and need special gasoline rations for such must carry a full load of passengers able to perform the particular job for which they are volunteering, Paul I. Nederman, district rationing executive for the Office of Price Administration, stated today.

"Many persons," Nederman said, "have applied to their local OPA boards for special gasoline rations to do volunteer work on farms during their vacations and plan to take their families with them. Unless all members of the families involved are able to perform the job for which they are volunteering and have obtained certification from the Emergency Farm Labor Office of the Agriculture Extension Service to this effect, the local OPA board has no choice but to deny the application."

Hungry for Good Cake?

HAVE you been longing for a piece of really good cake? If so take a look at the luscious Coffee Chocolate Cake shown in the above photograph. Here's the flavor treat you've been waiting for. It's festive enough for a party and just the thing to bring out when the men in the Armed Services drop in for a visit. There's nothing men like better than a big piece of chocolate cake and plenty of fragrant, full-strength coffee. So if you serve your friends and family both of these, your popularity is assured.

If you think you haven't time to bake a cake, it must be because you haven't tried this new quick method. It's easy to do and the result is delicious. Just read the recipe and you'll see how fast it goes . . . fewer utensils to clean, too. Try a slice of this coffee-flavored chocolate cake and you'll bake it again and again. It's the coffee flavoring that makes it [illegible]. Here is the recipe for (Chocolate Cake. It's tested, of course.

Quick Coffee Chocolate Cake

- ½ cup very hot coffee
- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon tartrate or phosphate baking powder or
- ½ teaspoon double action baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup vegetable shortening
- ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- ⅔ cup buttermilk or sour milk
- 2 eggs, unbeaten

Add the very hot coffee to chocolate and stir until well blended. Measure flour, salt, soda, baking powder and granulated sugar into sifter. Measure shortening into large bowl and stir with wooden spoon until very soft. Sift flour mixture over this. Add brown sugar and ½ the buttermilk or sour milk. Break eggs on top of this, stir just enough to mix and beat 1 minute. Add remaining liquid and beat 1 minute. Add chocolate mixture and beat 1 minute more. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes. Use 3 well-greased square 6-inch pans or 3 round 8-inch pans. When cool, frost as desired.

Note: Sweet milk mixed with 2 teaspoons vinegar or lemon juice may replace buttermilk or sour milk.

Never Mind Those Remarks, See?

If you have an electric fan in your home that you are not using, Collector of Internal Revenue Harold A. Berliner wants it.

In response to an urgent request from Harold N. Graves, acting commissioner of Internal Revenue, Collector Berliner has deputy collectors combing the shops of "new" and "second hand" dealers of electrical appliances, furniture and department stores, repair shops and firms going out of business, searching for electric fans.

The reason for the immediate need of fans by the Internal Revenue is due to the bureau's expansion in recent months, particularly in the southern and southwestern states.

Individuals having electric fans not in use are urged to send in the size, condition, current and sales prices of the fan, to Collector of Internal Revenue Berliner, 100 McAllister street, San Francisco, 2, California.

MORE BLUE STAMPS

Five more blue stamps totaling 50 points, W-8, X-8, Y-8, Z-8 and A-5, will be good for buying rationed processed foods, July 1, the Office of Price Administration said today.

During July, OPA said, many housewives will use all of the first strip of blue ration stamps in war ration book four and will begin using the second strip, the first stamp in this strip being A-5.

The first strip contained stamps bearing the figure "8" on their face. The figure "5" is printed on stamps in the second row.

These figures serve for identification of the stamps only, and have no connection whatever with their value. Regardless of whether food ration stamps have an 8, 5, 2 and 1 on their face, they are all worth 10 points.

All stamps validated, July 1, will be good indefinitely.

Back Talk

BARE AND COOLER, the temperature-defying house-coat version of sun-exposure fashions, worn by CBS actress Renee ("Bright Horizon") Terry, registers a new note in comfortable styles. Ruffled cotton lace frames the halter edge and simulates pockets on the crisp white twill wrap-around which boasts a modest sweetheart neckline. (From Franklin Simon & Co., New York.)

JUDGE ARRAIGNS MAN

William Van Gastelan, returned to Daly City from San Pedro by Police Chief James G. Reardon, last week, to face burglary charges, was arraigned before Judge William J. Sweeney in city court, Friday, June 23. Preliminary hearing date was set for July 14, 2 p. m. in city court at 75 Wellington avenue. In lieu of furnishing bail, $1,000 cash or $2,000 bond, Van Gastelan was committed to the jail at Redwood City.

At Friday's court session Henry Mendola, 726 Niantic avenue, paid a $10 fine for violation of City Ordinance No. 209. On a charge of violating the same ordinance, Earl Ivan Dick, 969 Victory avenue, South San Francisco, forfeited $10 bail for non-appearance.

The case against Pat Bailey was dismissed, Friday, when George Kirschhubel withdrew his complaint following full restitution for the charges contained in the misdemeanor warrant. Bailey had been brought back to Daly City from Reno, Nevada, to face the charges of petty theft.
